

TAX STRATEGY, YEAR-ROUND • ALL 50 STATES

Uncle Sam looks out for the government.

Uncle Pat looks out for you.

He wants the forms filed and the amount paid. We want the amount to be right — and as small as the law allows. That takes twelve months of work, not one afternoon in April. All fifty states, all year long.

YEAR-ROUND — NOT JUST APRIL

TWO DIFFERENT JOBS

April doesn't decide your tax bill. The eleven months before it do.

Most firms sell you one day of work and call it tax service. Filing season isn't where the outcome is created — it's where it gets reported. By the time the forms arrive, the decisions that mattered have already been made.

UNCLE SAM	UNCLE PAT
Compliance The forms, the deadlines, the arithmetic, the amount due. It is not negotiable and it is not creative. It looks backwards at a year that has already closed and asks one question: did you report it correctly? His job • getting it right	Strategy Entity choice, owner compensation, the timing of income and equipment, retirement contributions, where you register, what you elect and when. Every one of these is decided before the year closes — and every one of them changes the number Uncle Sam calculates. His job • getting there first

 Tax season shows how much you prepared. It isn't where the preparing happens.

Stop waiting until tax season to think about taxes.

THE PIVOT AIDE YEAR

For us, tax season lasts twelve months.

Here is what a year with us actually looks like. Note where filing sits — at the end, as the report on work already done.

JAN — APR	MAY — JUL	AUG — OCT	NOV — DEC
Filing season The year's decisions become a number. If we did the other nine months properly, nothing here is a surprise. - Returns prepared and e-filed - Extensions where documents are late - Prior-year catch-up and amendments - K-1s chased before they hold you up	The reset A return reports what already happened. Planning changes what happens next — entity choice, owner pay, the timing of income and equipment, retirement. All decided before the year closes. - Entity and S-corp election review - Reasonable compensation set - W-4 and quarterly estimates tuned - Books cleaned and brought current	Projection We run your year forward and tell you the number before it is final, while there is still time to move it. - Mid-year projection with a written figure - Retirement plan design and funding - Equipment and depreciation timing - Multi-state nexus review	The closing window The last moves that still count. After 31 December almost every lever is gone, whoever you hire in March. - Income and expense timing - Retirement and HSA contributions - Charitable and loss harvesting - Payroll, bonuses and distributions set

WHY THIS MATTERS

By January, most of your tax bill is already decided. A preparer who meets you in February can only report what happened. That is a real service, and we do it well — but it is the last step, not the whole job.

SOUND FAMILIAR?

Start with the thing that's bothering you.

Most people don't arrive knowing whether they need cleanup, planning or representation. They arrive with a problem. Find yours.

Behind on your bookkeeping? Months of unreconciled accounts, and a return you can't file until they're clean. We reconstruct the books, reconcile every account, and put a monthly process in place so it doesn't happen again. FIX MY BOOKS →	Paying tax but you have no strategy? A return reports what already happened. Planning changes what happens next — entity choice, owner pay, the timing of income and equipment, retirement. All decided before the year closes. SCHEDULE TAX PLANNING →	A letter arrived from the IRS or a state? Most of them are wrong about something. Send it over and we'll tell you what it actually says, what the real deadline is, and what it costs to handle — free, inside two business days. HAVE IT READ FREE →
Haven't filed in years? Three years or ten. Transcripts pulled, substitute assessments reversed, records reconstructed and compliance restored — so you can borrow, bid, or just stop thinking about it. GET CURRENT →	Don't trust the numbers you're filing on? If the P&L is wrong, the return is wrong. We find the errors, reconcile the accounts, and rebuild reporting you can actually make decisions from. CLEAN IT UP →	Deadline in front of you? Upfront price before you start, secure upload, e-signature, filed and confirmed to IRS acceptance. No mystery invoice at the end of it. START MY RETURN →

Know your numbers. Plan your taxes. Grow with confidence.

Five things, done properly, all year. Everything here is income tax and the work immediately around it — that focus is the point.

01 Tax Preparation Individual and business returns in all fifty states, with accuracy, compliance and a filing process that tells you where you stand. Start your tax return →	02 Tax Planning Proactive strategy through the year, so decisions are made before they harden into tax consequences. The Standing File sits at the top of it. Schedule tax planning →	03 Business Accounting Monthly bookkeeping, bank reconciliation, financial statements, payroll and sales tax — the ledger the return is built on. Improve your books →	04 Accounting Cleanup For books that are months behind, unreconciled, or simply wrong. We reconstruct, reconcile and hand back something you can file and borrow against. Fix my books →	05 Audit & Resolution Notices, examinations, balances owed, liens and unfiled years — federal and all fifty state agencies. Get help with a notice →

WHO WE HELP

Four situations, four different jobs.

The work is not the same for a household with three W-2s and a rental as it is for a six-entity group. Find the one that reads like you.

INDIVIDUALS	SMALL BUSINESS	GROWING BUSINESSES	REAL ESTATE
Households and employees - Federal and multi-state returns - Investment and rental income - Self-employment and 1099 work - Prior-year returns and amendments - IRS and state correspondence - Withholding and planning	Owner-operated companies - Monthly bookkeeping and reconciliation - Financial statements you can use - Payroll and employment tax - AP and AR support - Business returns and K-1s - Catch-up and cleanup	Outgrowing basic filing - Entity structure and elections - Owner compensation and distributions - Multi-state nexus and apportionment - Retirement plan design - Succession and exit, planned early - Served by The Standing File	Property investors - Rental bookkeeping, property by property - Schedule E and passive loss rules - Home office and depreciation tracking - Entity and multi-property accounting - Cost segregation coordination - Basis tracking through to sale

PACKAGES & PRICING

Only pay for the tax work you need.

Get it right the first time — and feel confident about it. Every package includes the secure portal, e-signature, e-file confirmation, and IRS acceptance monitoring.

EVERY STATE, EVERY YEAR

We file in all fifty states.

Remote work, a rental in another state, an owner who moved, a business selling across state lines — multi-state is normal now, and it is where most preparers quietly get it wrong. We handle resident, non-resident and part-year returns nationwide, plus the nexus and apportionment questions underneath them.

- Resident, non-resident and part-year returns in any state
- Multi-state apportionment for entities
- Economic nexus review for remote sellers and service businesses
- State registrations, withholding and sales tax accounts
- State notices and assessments — see Audit & Resolution

WHY US

Four differences you can actually check.

Not "excellent customer service." Things that are either true of a firm or they aren't.

01 Year-round, not seasonal Your relationship with your accountant shouldn't disappear in April. Quarterly contact, a mid-year projection, and a year-end window worked in November — not a phone number that stops answering in May.	02 Business and tax together Accounting decisions and tax decisions are the same decisions viewed twice. We look at both, which is why the bookkeeping and the return are done by people who talk to each other.	03 Technology-driven, not paper-driven Secure portal, e-filing and IRS acceptance monitoring. Nothing arrives by fax, and nothing gets lost between an inbox and a filing cabinet.	04 Tax is all we do No audits of other people's companies, no software resales, no side business. Income tax and the work immediately around it, which is why answers come back the same week.

WHAT CLIENTS SAY

Real support from real tax experts.

I was honestly stressed about filing, but they made the whole process really easy. Everything was explained clearly and I never felt lost. HERMAN MILLER	It was super straightforward from start to finish. I uploaded my docs, asked a few questions, and they handled the rest. LORETTA SMITH	Pivot Aide Tax caught credits I would've missed on my own and kept me updated the whole time. Definitely using them again. JEREMY GIRARD

QUICK FAQS

Three we get every week.

Do I need Self-Employed if I have a small 1099 side gig?

Yes — any self-employment income on Schedule C falls under Self-Employed. Rental income on Schedule E starts at Premium. We'll confirm before you pay.

What counts as a "basic" K-1?

A straightforward partnership or S-corp K-1 without special allocations, multi-state apportionment, or complex basis tracking. We flag anything complex upfront, before it changes your price.

Can I add state returns or fix an old one?

Absolutely — we file in all fifty states, and we can file past years or amend returns if needed, priced after a quick scope check.

WHAT WE DO

Tax isn't a department here. It's the whole firm.

Some firms do a bit of tax alongside everything else. We do income tax and the work that surrounds it — nothing else, in every month of the year. That is why the answers come back faster and the returns come back right.

AND THE BOOKS BEHIND THEM

We keep bookkeeping on the menu for one reason: a return is only as good as the ledger under it, and a strategy you can't measure isn't a strategy. Clean books are a tax service here, not a separate business.

TAX STRATEGY · BY ENGAGEMENT

The Standing File

Most firms open your file in February and close it in April. This one never closes.

A year-round tax strategy engagement for high-income individuals and for business owners — a named advisor who knows your situation, quarterly counsel, every return and every notice handled, and someone to call before you do the thing, not after.

Request a scoping call

1 (571) 470-3754

WHAT THE ENGAGEMENT IS

Three things you are actually buying.

01 A dedicated tax advisor One named person, not a queue and not whoever is free. They hold your file, they know what you did last year and why, and their number is in your phone. You will not explain your situation from scratch again.	02 Counsel across the whole year A quarterly session on the calendar, a written strategy plan, a mid-year projection, and a year-end review — plus unlimited questions in between. The point is to reach every decision before it hardens into a filing.	03 Everything filed and handled Your returns, your estimates, your notices. Included, not billed. When an envelope arrives from the IRS or a state, you forward it and stop thinking about it — that is the service.

TWO TRACKS

Built for the two situations that need it.

Same spine — named advisor, quarterly counsel, everything filed. What changes is the work underneath, because a high W-2 and equity package is a different animal from an operating business.

TRACK A High-income individuals	TRACK B Business owners & entities
Large W-2 or professional income, equity compensation, investment and rental portfolios, a liquidity event on the horizon. - Equity compensation — RSU vesting, ISO and NSO exercise timing, 83(b) decisions - Capital gains planning, loss harvesting and holding-period management - Alternative minimum tax exposure modelled before it lands - Net investment income tax and the additional Medicare tax - Charitable strategy — bunching, donor-advised funds, appreciated stock - Backdoor and mega-backdoor Roth mechanics, done correctly - Rental and real estate positions, including passive loss rules - State residency and part-year planning for moves and second homes - Annual gift exclusion use and coordination with your estate attorney	An operating company, or several. Partnerships, S-corps and C-corps, single-state or spread across the country. - Entity structure and elections, reviewed every year rather than once - Owner compensation, distributions and basis tracking - Accountable plan, home office, vehicle and reimbursement policy - Retirement plan design — Solo 401(k), SEP, SIMPLE, cash balance - Qualified business income treatment and how to protect it - Depreciation strategy, bonus versus §179, cost segregation coordination - Multi-state nexus, apportionment and registration monitoring - R&D credit qualification and study coordination - Succession, basis and exit planning well ahead of a sale

INCLUDED IN THE ENGAGEMENT

No line items. No surprise invoices.

Everything below is inside the annual fee. The reason is simple: a client who hesitates before calling their tax advisor is a client who calls too late.

ADVICE & PLANNING	FILING & COMPLIANCE
Quarterly strategy sessions — four a year, scheduled, with an agenda and notes Written annual strategy plan — quantified, with an implementation calendar Mid-year projection — your year run forward while it can still be changed Year-end review — the closing window, worked properly in November Transaction support — call before the purchase, the sale or the exercise Unlimited questions — email or phone, no clock running Second Look on prior years — three filed returns reviewed at onboarding Coordination with your other advisors — attorney, wealth manager, lender	All personal returns — federal and every state you touch All entity returns — 1065, 1120-S or 1120, on Track B Quarterly estimates managed — recalculated, vouchers issued, safe harbour tracked Extensions — filed with a payment estimate, not a guess Notice handling — any IRS or state letter, answered, at no separate fee Examination representation — on returns we prepared Amendments — where they are worth filing Document vault — permanent, and yours whether or not you stay

ONE BOUNDARY, STATED PLAINLY

Representation before the IRS is provided only by practitioners authorised under Circular 230, and outcomes in any examination or collection matter depend on your circumstances and on the agency's determination. Nothing in this engagement is a guarantee of a particular tax result — what it guarantees is that someone competent is looking, all year.

PREMIUM SUPPORT

What “dedicated” actually means here.

Most firms use the word. These are the commitments behind it, and they are in the engagement letter, not just on this page.

RESPONSE One business day Every question gets a substantive answer within one business day — not an acknowledgement, an answer. If it needs research, you get the timeline that day.	ACCESS Direct line, no gate Your advisor's direct number and email. No ticket queue, no general inbox, no re-explaining your situation to whoever picks up.	URGENCY Deadline triage same day Anything with a date on it — a notice, a closing, an exercise window — is read and answered the day it arrives.	CONTINUITY A second who knows you A named backup advisor reads your file too, so holidays, illness and filing season never leave you starting over.

HOW THE YEAR RUNS

Four quarters, four conversations.

The engagement has a rhythm, and it is the opposite of the usual one — the heavy thinking happens in the quiet months and April is mostly paperwork.

Q1 · JAN — APR	Q2 · MAY — JUL	Q3 · AUG — OCT	Q4 · NOV — DEC
Filing Returns prepared and filed. If the other three quarters were done properly, nothing here is news. - All returns, federal and state - K-1s chased on your behalf - Q1 estimate set	Structure The quiet quarter, and the one that moves the number most. Everything structural is cheapest to change now. - Entity and election review - Compensation reset - Retirement plan design	Projection Your year run forward to a written figure, with the levers still available listed against it. - Mid-year projection issued - Estimates re-cut - Equipment and gains timing	Execution The closing window. Everything agreed in Q3 gets done before the year shuts, with a checklist and a deadline each. - Contributions funded - Income and expense timing - Distributions and bonuses set

FIT

Worth being honest about.

This is a significant annual commitment and it is not right for everyone. We would rather tell you that on the first call than in the second year.

It earns its fee when	It does not, yet, when
- Your income is high enough that timing and structure move real money - You own a business, or several, and the entity questions are live - Equity compensation, real estate or investments make the year complicated - You operate or earn in more than one state - A sale, a purchase or a liquidity event is somewhere on the horizon - You have been surprised by a tax bill more than once	- A straightforward return is genuinely all you need — take a filing package - The business is new and not yet profitable — start with books and estimates - You want a return prepared and no conversation. That is a fair thing to want. - The main problem is a balance owed or unfiled years — start with Audit & Resolution
If any of these is you, we will say so and point you at the right thing. It costs us a sale and saves you a year.

FEE

Scoped, not listed.

The Standing File is an annual engagement, quoted after a scoping call, because the work genuinely differs — a two-state consultant and a six-entity group are not the same year. What we can promise is that the number is fixed for the term, agreed in writing before anything starts, and does not move because you called too often.

- Annual engagement, billed monthly or annually — your choice
- Fixed for the term. No hourly billing, no per-question charges
- Scope, deliverables and dates set out in a written engagement letter
- Includes the returns, so compare it against what you pay today in total

AUDIT & RESOLUTION

FOUR TIERS

Where your situation lands.

01	Notice response CP2000, CP14, CP501/503/504, LT11, and their state equivalents. We read it, check whether the agency is actually right — often it isn't — draft and file the response, and track it to closure. Most letters end here and never become anything larger.	$450 PER NOTICE
02	Examination representation We file a power of attorney and deal with the examiner directly. Correspondence, office, or field audit. Document production, responses to information requests, written position memos, and appeal where the position is worth defending. You don't attend.	from $2,500 SCOPED AFTER REVIEW
03	Collections & resolution Balances owed, liens, levies, wage garnishment. We pull and read your transcripts first, always. Then the right instrument: an installment agreement, currently-not-collectible status, penalty abatement on first-time or reasonable-cause grounds, or an offer in compromise if you genuinely qualify for one.	from $1,500 SCOPED AFTER REVIEW
04	Back years & unfiled returns Three years or ten. We pull wage-and-income transcripts, reverse substitute-for-return assessments where they exist, reconstruct what's missing, and get you back to compliant — so you can borrow, bid, or just stop thinking about it.	$350 / year + $500 RECONSTRUCTION

THE STATE DESK

All fifty state agencies.

Most tax-relief firms only handle the IRS. State agencies move faster and are less forgiving, and they are where multi-state clients get caught out. We work all of them — with the deepest bench in Maryland, Virginia and DC.

- Any state department of revenue or taxation
- Comptroller of Maryland · Virginia Dept. of Taxation · DC OTR
- Multi-state assessments and apportionment disputes
- Sales and use tax audits
- Withholding and employer assessments
- Nexus assessments for remote sellers
- State liens, levies and payment plans

SPECIALTY MATTERS

The harder ones.

Situations that need someone who has seen the situation before, not someone reading the instructions for the first time.

- Innocent spouse and injured spouse relief
- Identity-theft returns and IP PIN recovery
- Employee Retention Credit examinations
- Worker classification — 1099 versus W-2
- Trust fund recovery penalty
- First-time and reasonable-cause abatement
- Transcript analysis and account reconstruction

ON EVERY RETURN · $75 A YEAR Audit Shield Add it when you file. If that return is ever examined, notice response and examination representation on it are covered — no separate engagement, no new fee.	HOW WE WORK What you can expect One number to call. We read your letter within two business days and tell you the deadline on it. No countdown timers, no red banners, no promises about outcomes — just what the process is and what it costs.

PLAINLY

Resolution outcomes depend on your financial circumstances and on the agency's own determination. No firm can promise a specific result, a reduced balance, or a percentage — and anyone who does is selling you something. We'll tell you honestly what your options look like before you engage us.

FREE HELP

Eight things you can have for nothing.

Every firm says the first consultation is free. This is a longer list than that.

Each one has a real limit printed next to it, because an offer with a hidden catch isn’t worth much.

LIMIT · THREE RETURNS, ONCE Second Look Send us your last three filed returns. We read them for missed credits, the wrong filing status, unclaimed depreciation, and the deductions your trade usually forgets. If we find something, we’ll tell you what amending it is worth before you decide anything.	LIMIT · ONE LETTER PER HOUSEHOLD Notice Triage Send the IRS or state letter. Within two business days you get a plain-English read: what it is, what it wants, what the deadline actually is, and what it would cost to handle. Whether or not you hire us.
LIMIT · ONE HOUR Consultation An hour with a person who does this for a living, on the phone, on video, or in person. Bring the messy question — that’s the one worth the hour.	LIMIT · ONCE A YEAR Withholding Checkup We tune your W-4 so you stop lending the government money interest-free, or stop owing every April. Fifteen minutes, and it changes every paycheck for a year.
LIMIT · ONE PAGE, ONE ANSWER Entity Fit Check Should you be an S-corp yet? You get one page with the actual breakeven number for your income — not a general rule of thumb, and not a yes because we’d like to sell you the election.	DOWNLOAD Deduction checklists by trade Separate lists for realtors, contractors, truckers, home-care agencies, salon owners, and rideshare drivers. Written for that trade, not a generic list with the word “business” in front of everything.
CLIENTS · ONE A MONTH Ask Uncle Pat On any paid plan, one tax question a month, answered properly. Not a chatbot and not a knowledge base — an actual answer from an actual preparer.	ALWAYS Document vault A secure portal and a permanent archive of everything we’ve filed for you. It stays reachable whether or not you’re still a client. Your returns are yours.

That letter has a deadline on it. Send it over. We’ll read it today.

TAX RESOURCES

The things people call us to ask.

Deadlines, the numbers that actually changed this year, what to bring, and plain-English answers to the questions that come up every week. Free to use, whether or not you file with us.

WHAT'S NEXT

The dates that are actually coming.

Not a generic calendar starting in January — the deadlines ahead of you from today. Anything marked in gold is inside the next ninety days.

15 Sep 2026 TUESDAY	Q3 estimated tax · extended partnership and S-corp returns Third-quarter estimate for the 2026 tax year, and the final deadline for 1065 and 1120-S returns that were extended in March.	SELF-EMPLOYED PARTNERSHIPS S-CORPS
15 Oct 2026 THURSDAY	Extended individual returns Last day for 2025 Form 1040 returns filed on extension. There is no further extension — after this, late-filing penalties start accruing.	INDIVIDUALS SOLE PROPRIETORS
Nov — Dec 2026 PLANNING WINDOW	Year-end moves Retirement funding, equipment purchases, income and expense timing, charitable gifts, bonuses and distributions. Almost every lever closes at midnight on 31 December.	EVERYONE WITH SOMETHING TO DECIDE
31 Dec 2026 THURSDAY	The 2026 tax year closes Last day for most deductible actions. IRA contributions are the notable exception — those run to the filing deadline.	EVERYONE
15 Jan 2027 FRIDAY	Q4 estimated tax Final 2026 estimate. Paying it on time is often what keeps the underpayment penalty off the return.	SELF-EMPLOYED INVESTORS
1 Feb 2027 MONDAY	W-2 and 1099 furnishing deadline Employers and payers must get W-2s and most 1099s to recipients and to the agencies. The statutory date is 31 January, which falls on a Sunday, so it moves to the next business day. If you pay contractors, this is your deadline, not theirs.	EMPLOYERS ANYONE ISSUING 1099S
15 Mar 2027 MONDAY	Partnership and S-corp returns Forms 1065 and 1120-S, or the extension to 15 September. K-1s flow from here, so a late entity return holds up every owner's personal return.	PARTNERSHIPS S-CORPS
15 Apr 2027 THURSDAY	Individual and C-corp returns · Q1 estimate · IRA deadline Form 1040 and Form 1120, or an extension. Also the first 2027 estimate, and the last day to make a 2026 IRA or HSA contribution.	INDIVIDUALS C-CORPS
ON EXTENSIONS An extension gives you more time to file, never more time to pay. If you expect to owe, the payment is still due on the original date — otherwise interest and the failure-to-pay penalty run from that day, extension or not. We estimate the payment and file the extension together.

TAX YEAR 2026

The numbers that matter this year.

Figures for the 2026 tax year — the year you are living in now, and the one your planning decisions still affect. Sourced from the IRS; we update this page when the agency does.

Figures are for tax year 2026 and come from IRS Revenue Procedure 2025–32, IRS Notice IR–2025–111, Revenue Procedure 2025–19 and the 2026 standard mileage rate announcement. Reference only — your situation decides which of these apply, and several phase out with income.

PLAIN ENGLISH

Six things worth understanding.

Written the way we would explain them on the phone, because that is where most of these questions actually get asked.

NOTICES A CP2000 is not a bill It is a proposed change — the IRS matched a form it received against your return and found a gap. You normally have 30 days to agree or disagree. A surprising share are wrong, or right about the income and wrong about the basis. Never pay one before someone reads it.	ESTIMATES Why you owe every April Nothing withholds tax from self-employment, investment or rental income. The fix is quarterly estimates. Pay the lesser of 90% of this year's tax or 100% of last year's — 110% if last year's AGI topped $150,000 — and the underpayment penalty goes away.	ENTITY When an S-corp starts to pay The saving is on self-employment tax, and it only exists once profit comfortably exceeds a reasonable salary for your role. Below that, the payroll and filing costs eat it. The salary is not optional and not a number you pick — it has to be defensible.
RECORDS How long to keep things Three years is the general rule. Six if you omitted more than 25% of your gross income. Employment tax records, four. Property records until three years after you sell it. If you never filed, or filed fraudulently, there is no limit at all.	MULTI-STATE Where you actually owe Your resident state taxes everything; other states tax what you earned there, and your home state usually credits you for it. Remote work, a rental elsewhere, or a mid-year move each create a return most people miss — and states are getting better at noticing.	EXTENSIONS An extension buys time to file Not time to pay. File one and you avoid the failure-to-file penalty, which is ten times heavier than the failure-to-pay penalty. But interest and the smaller penalty still run from the original date on anything unpaid.

 None of this is complicated. It's just unfamiliar, and it arrives when you're busy.

BEFORE YOU FILE

What to have ready.

The portal gives you a checklist built for your situation. This is the short version, so you can start gathering before you book anything.

EVERYONE	SELF-EMPLOYED AND BUSINESS OWNERS
— Last year's filed return	— Profit and loss and balance sheet, or the bookkeeping file
— Photo ID and Social Security numbers for everyone on the return	— Bank and credit card statements for every business account
— W-2s, and 1099s of every letter — NEC, MISC, INT, DIV, B, R, G, K	— Mileage log, or total business and total miles for the year
— 1095-A if you had marketplace health coverage	— Home office square footage and total home square footage
— 1098 for mortgage interest, 1098-T for tuition, 1098-E for student loan interest	— Asset purchases over $2,500 with dates and amounts
— Bank routing and account number for the refund or payment	— Payroll reports and copies of 1099s you issued
— Any IRS or state letters received since your last filing	— K-1s from any partnership or S-corp you hold
	— Estimated tax payments made, with dates

WHAT YOU CAN BOOK

Seven kinds of appointment.

Pick the one that matches your question. If you pick wrong we'll move you, at no charge — we would rather you got the right hour than the tidy one.

ANYONE Free consultation An hour to talk through whatever the situation is — a first filing, a business you just started, a year that went sideways. Bring the messy question. That's the one worth the hour. 60 minutes · No charge	AFTER YOU CHOOSE A PACKAGE Filing kickoff We walk your document checklist together, confirm the package is the right one before any work starts, and agree the timeline for your return. 30 minutes · Included	PRIORITY SLOTS HELD DAILY Notice or audit intake You have a letter, an examination, a balance, or years you haven't filed. Bring the notice. We read it, tell you the real deadline, and set out what handling it involves and costs. 45 minutes · Triage free
AUGUST – OCTOBER Mid-year projection Your year run forward to a written number, while there is still time to change it. Includes what to do about it and by when. 60 minutes · Included on retainer	ANY TIME Entity & S-corp review Should you elect, and is this the year? We bring your actual breakeven, a reasonable compensation range, and an honest answer if the answer is not yet. 45 minutes · Fit check free	THE STANDING FILE Strategy scoping call For anyone considering the year-round engagement. We assess the situation honestly, tell you whether it earns its fee, and quote only if it does. 45 minutes · No charge
NOVEMBER – DECEMBER ONLY Year-end planning The last moves that still count for the closing tax year — retirement funding, equipment, income timing, distributions. Booked out early; don't leave it to late December. 60 minutes · Included on retainer

THE FILE ROOM · IN BUILD

Your file, open all year. Now you can see inside it.

One place to send documents, sign what needs signing, read your finished return, ask the question you actually have, and pay — on the web and on your phone. No more attachments, no more “did you get my W-2?”

SEND Upload, don’t email Photograph a W-2 at the kitchen table or drag a folder in from your desktop. We tell you exactly what is still missing, by name — never “please send your documents.”	SIGN Sign from anywhere Read the return, verify it is you, sign, and we file. Four minutes. Both spouses sign separately from wherever they happen to be.	READ See what changed Not just the number. Three plain sentences on what moved since last year and why — the rental, the equipment, the new state.
ASK Ask where the papers are A question about a document, asked beside that document, answered by the person preparing your return. Within one business day.	KNOW Deadlines that are yours Your estimated payment, your extension date, your state. Plus the rule changes that actually move your number — and nothing else.	PAY Pay without a phone call Itemised invoice, bank transfer with no fee, card if you prefer with the fee shown before you confirm. Payment history stays where you can find it.

Everything in one place, for the whole year — not just in April.

GETTING IN

Three steps, and you are in it.

1 We send you an invitation An email with a link, to the address already on your file. It expires, so use it while it is fresh — and if it lapses, ask for another. We can always send one.	2 You set a password and a second step A code by text, or Face ID on the phone app. The second step is not us being difficult: it is required for anyone holding taxpayer information, and it is the single thing that stops a stolen password becoming a stolen identity.	3 Your file is already there Prior returns, this year’s checklist, your invoices. Nothing to set up. If you have filed with us before, it is populated before you arrive.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO USE IT

Paper, post and an appointment in the office all still work, and always will. Some people prefer to hand over a folder across a desk, and that is a perfectly good way to file a return. The app is there for the people who would rather not drive across town in February.

WHY THIS AND NOT EMAIL

Emailing a W-2 is the riskiest thing most people do with their tax data.

Your Social Security number, your employer, your address and your income, all in one attachment, sitting in two inboxes forever, forwarded through servers neither of us controls. It is how identity theft starts, and it is completely normal, and that is the problem.

Encrypted going in and sitting still Documents are encrypted in transit and at rest, scanned for malware the moment they arrive, and visible only to you and the staff assigned to your file.	Every access is logged Who opened what, and when. If you ever want to know who at the firm has seen a document, that is a question with an answer.
Two steps to get in, always A password on its own is not enough to reach anything. That is not a setting we can turn off for convenience, and we would not want to.	Card details never touch us Payments are handled on the processor’s own secure page. Your card number is never stored on, or passed through, a Pivot Aide system.

 UNCLE PAT

An attachment is a copy you can never get back. A file room is a room you can lock.

STRAIGHT ANSWERS

The questions people actually ask.

Does it cost extra? No. It comes with the engagement, whatever you are with us for — a single return or The Standing File.	What if I do not have a smartphone? It works in any browser on any computer. The phone app is the convenient version, not the only version. And the office is still the office.
Do you keep my documents forever? We keep what the law requires us to keep, for as long as it requires. What is no longer needed is disposed of properly rather than left lying around.	Can my spouse have their own login? Yes, and they should. Joint returns need two separate signatures, and each of you signs as yourself.
Will it do my taxes for me? No, and it never will. Every number you see in it was put there by a person at this firm. The app carries the paperwork; the return is prepared by a preparer.	What if I leave? Your returns are yours. You can download everything we have filed for you, and the archive stays reachable whether or not you are still a client.

WHERE IT IS

The File Room is being built now, web first, with the iPhone and Android apps to follow. If you would like to be among the first clients in it, say so when you book — early access goes out in small groups so we can fix what needs fixing before everyone arrives.

MEET UNCLE PAT

Everybody’s got an Uncle Sam.

Not everybody’s got an Uncle Pat.

Pat is an owl, and he has been doing this a long time. He has seen every letter the agency sends and he is not impressed by any of them. He’s the relative you call before you call a lawyer — the one who reads the notice, puts it down, and says okay, here’s what this actually is.

Owls see in the dark, hear what’s hidden, and hunt without making a sound. That’s more or less the job: find what’s buried in a return, spot the risk before the agency does, and handle it quietly.

There’s a division of labour here. Uncle Sam looks out for the government — the forms, the deadlines, the amount due on a year that has already closed. Uncle Pat looks out for you — the twelve months of decisions that determine what Sam ends up calculating. One of them looks backwards. The other gets there first.

HOW HE TALKS

Five rules, and one he won’t break.

RULE 01 Calm first Pat never panics, and never makes you panic. Fear is the competition’s instrument, not ours.	RULE 02 Plain words “The IRS thinks you left off $8,400 of income” — not “CP2000 underreporter inquiry.”	RULE 03 Short sentences He’s talking to you. He isn’t filing a brief.
RULE 04 Honest about bad news If you owe it, he says so. There’s no version of this where being told what you want to hear helps.	RULE 05 Dry, never jokey One wry beat, then back to work. He’s warm. He isn’t the comic relief.	THE ONE HE WON’T BREAK He defends against the letter, not the government Uncle Sam is entitled to what he’s owed. Our job is making sure the number is right and you’re treated correctly. That’s the whole posture.

THINGS PAT SAYS

In his own words.

- “Uncle Sam isn’t the enemy. He’s just very organised. So are we.”
- “He gets exactly what he’s owed. Not a dollar more.”
- “Most of these letters are wrong about something. Let’s find out which part.”
- “Four years unfiled. That’s fixable. It’s happened before.”
- “Bring the messy question. That’s the one worth the hour.”

THINGS PAT DOESN’T SAY

And won’t.

- “Beat the IRS” or “fight the government”
- Anything about pennies on the dollar
- Anything a tax protester would nod along to
- A promised outcome, figure, or percentage
- A joke at a frightened person’s expense

BEHIND THE OWL

Uncle Pat is the friendly face on a firm of accountants and preparers working out of Hyattsville, Maryland and Northern Virginia. Real credentials, real licensing, listed on the contact page. He’s who greets you. They’re who does the work.
